

Action Taken by SC to Alter Constitution

Prof. William DeSiero

A proposal requiring that the president of Student Council be chosen by the entire student body was made and approved by SC representatives at last week's meeting.

The constitutional change was among several presented by SC advisors Profs. George Stanley and William DeSiero and which were met with vigorous discussion lasting more than two hours.

The primary concern of the representatives was over the qualifications a candidate running for president should have. It was decided that 1) he be at least 21 years of age; 2) that he be a member of either the junior or senior class; 3) That he have a minimum Q.P.R. of 2.8; and 4) That he should have been a member of Student Council for at least one semester.

It was also felt that the election of president should take place ten days prior to the general elections. Most of the ideas met with Council's approval with the exception of the high Q.P.R. rating. It was felt that such a high Q.P.R. might cause loss of a good number of qualified candidates. By vote the Q.P.R. was then lowered to 2.5. The suggestion was made that the president of the Council could only vote to break a tie.

Another change asked by Stanley and DeSiero was adding members to Council in order to get a more representative cross section of the student body. Until this time membership has been limited to the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes. Under the new plan, representatives would also be present from various organizations on campus. Deciding which groups on campus would have representation took the remainder of the session.

Student Council Officers have re-stated their policy, in that all students of the University will be welcomed and are urged to attend the Council meetings, which are held every Wednesday afternoon from 1-3 p. m. in the conference room (28) at Alumni Hall.

Names of various organizations were brought up for a vote. By this process many of the groups were eliminated. The basis for their elimination was mainly that of total membership. It was decided that groups, with a small membership ought not to have the right to vote on Council.

Many of the organizations on campus have not been voted upon as yet. Other organizations that should receive a seat on Council and a final draft of the constitution itself will be voted upon when the Council convenes again.

Accreditation Committees To Inspect UB, April 19-22

All phases of the University from student life and activities on up to the Administrative functions will be scrutinized when state and national accreditation committees visit the campus and classrooms April 19-22.

The President's office has announced that a cooperative committee, composed of members from the Connecticut State Department of Education and the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, will visit the campus to reconsider the University's academic status with these organizations.

The joint visit by both these inspection committees marks the first such event in New England. These inspection committees coincide with the close of the University's first decade.

This will be the first time that either of the two joint committees have re-evaluated a "complex organization."

The University received its first term accreditation as a four year degree granting institution from the Connecticut State Department of Education in 1948. Re-inspected again in 1951, the University was granted a second three-year term accreditation expiring June 1954, which was later extended to June 1955. Another inspection was made in February 1955, with the University receiving another three-year term of accreditation scheduled to expire June 30, 1958, later extended to June, 1959.

Accreditation by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was granted in December, 1951, following a visitation by a special committee in November of that year. The inspection by this group is due to the efforts of the administration, who volunteered for a re-evaluation.

In addition, individual colleges in the University have asked for evaluations of present curricula and new programs. Associations involved include: Connecticut State Dental Association, the State Board of Examiners for Nursing, National League for Nursing, Inc., Boston University School of Nursing, American Association of University Women, and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

According to the statement from the President's office, new accreditation from these visits should strengthen the University degrees, and lend more prestige to the University.

Representatives of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools include: Dr. Frank M. Pelton, Chairman from the University of Rhode Island, Professor Robert W. Kenny, Brown University, Vice-President J. Garton Needham, Simmons College, Dr. Daniel Marshall, Tufts University and Professor Felix Zweig, Yale University.

Representatives of the Connecticut State Department of Education include: Dr. Mowat G. Fraser, Chairman, Connecticut State Department of Education, Dr. Francis H. Horn, President University of Rhode Island, Dr. Warren Stoker, Director, Dean of the Hartford Graduate Division, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Dr. William G. Sutcliffe, Dean Emeritus, Boston University, and Dr. Willis H. Umberger, Connecticut State Department of Education.

Two Bills Passed By PRF Members At CISL Confab

Eighteen delegates representing the University at a mock legislature in Hartford, March 5-7, have successfully, passed two bills in both houses, it was recently learned.

Of thirty-three bills proposed by eighteen Connecticut institutions of higher learning, fifteen were put on the docket and only eight were passed by both houses of the realistic legislature.

One bill proposed by Ed Fernandez, a sophomore majoring in Mechanical Engineering and Don Brennan, a senior Accounting major, stated that there should be no discrimination against age when a person applies for a job.

The other was proposed by Bob Wolfe, a freshman majoring in Mechanical Engineering, and Dave Simpson, a freshman majoring in Industrial Relations. It was concerned with the elimination of single straight ticket device thus a voter wouldn't have to pull a party lever and make it easier to vote a split ticket.

Andre Guilbert, a junior majoring in marketing, ran for president and was defeated. He became minority leader of the Senate. Committee hearings were staged for all proposed bills.

Bardin Wins Speech Contest

Hillel Bardin

by Doug Dillworth

Walking off with first prize in the University's 12th annual speech contest last Wednesday, before 450 persons at the Burrough's Public Library lecture Hall was Hillel Bardin, a junior majoring in sociology. Bardin was one of five finalists chosen to speak among 600 students who originally competed in a series of elimination contests.

Bardin spoke on the topic, "Community Attitudes Toward the Psychiatric Patient", directing the brunt of his speech to the fact that the community all too often ostracizes an individual who has, or was affected by a psychiatric illness.

What made Bardin's speech particularly interesting and effective was his willingness to discuss his own personal experiences while receiving therapy, and his first-hand relationships with psychiatric patients.

Second prize was won by Barbara Litrop, a sophomore majoring in political science who talked on "The Roving Romany." The theme of her speech was to dispel the romantic illusions people entertain about Gypsies. Included in the speech were a history of the Gypsy people, some facts about their culture—or lack of culture, and some startling and hitherto unknown facts about their mode of life.

Winner of third prize was Donald Brennan, a junior, majoring in accounting who talked "Catholic President: U.S.A.?", attempting to drive home the fact that we are all Americans, and in each instance the men most qualified for the job, regardless of race, creed or religion should have the opportunity to vie for presidential office.

Other finalists were Arthur Schipul, a sophomore, majoring in biology, who spoke on "Mercy Killing: The Great Misnomer," and Jerry Fisk, a sophomore, majoring in chemistry, "The History of Mathematics."

First prize was an Underwood portable typewriter; second, a Parker '61 fountain pen; and third, a Dictionary of contemporary (continued on page 6)

Increases Noted In Alumni Gifts

University alumni gifts for the 1957-58 academic year increased 22 percent over those of the preceding year, according to William B. Kennedy, director of alumni relations. Last year 1,286 gifts from 131 Arnold College alumni and 1,115 University alumni totaled $9,040.

Kennedy says that the University gifts compare favorably with the National Alumni Council reports in its twenty-first annual survey of alumni support during 1957-58 in that alumni gifts rose 29 percent over gifts for the previous year. Total gifts of 610 institutions were $143,112,213.

The University's alumni gifts for this year have so far reached 320 with a total of $3,000. This amount is way above the normal donations for this time of year, Kennedy reports.

He added that the William Benton Matching program, started in February of this year by former U.S. Senator William S. Benton, a trustee of the University, is largely responsible for the increase in donations. The program has an appropriation of $19,000 to be matched with increases in percentage points over the preceding year.

Kennedy also gave figures for yearly increases of gifts. In 1955, donations increased 4 percent; 1956, 15 percent; 1957, 18 percent; 1958, 22 percent.

Wolff Tells How Freshmen Rate UB

by Jerry Main

Results of a recent survey by the University self-study committee show that thirty-five percent of the freshmen class rate their professors as "good", 31 percent "excellent" and 21 percent "fair". The freshmen rated only 13 percent of their instructors as "poor".

Dr. Alfred Wolff, who released the information revealed that these were the most important campus assets: 1) student instructor relationship (2) friendly student atmosphere (3) good library facilities (4) good advisor system and (5) good dormitory social life.

On the other hand, four items needed improvement, according to the freshmen: (1) Social activities (2) Men's housing (3) Parking (4) Quality of teaching staff and student teacher relationships.

"It is interesting to note that student-instructor relationships were rated as both good and bad," Wolff said.

When asked to rate their advisors, the freshmen said 47

percent are "good", 27 percent "excellent", 21 percent "fair" and 4 percent "poor". Sixty-one percent of the freshmen rated their advisors as having a personal interest in them. 26 percent said they were "just doing their job" and 10 percent said their advisors were "impersonal".

Forty-five percent rated freshmen week activities as "good", while seven percent rated them as "excellent" and 32 percent rated them as "fair" and four percent "poor".

Of the 700 questionnaires distributed, only 336 were turned back for study. Of these, 166 said they experienced difficulty in apportioning time properly for study and recreation, and 165 complained of an inability to concentrate.

Dr. Wolff says, "This could mean that emotional problems, lack of motivation for college work or studying in the wrong field is the reason why such a large number of students have trouble concentrating. Wolff feels the future study of the freshmen questionnaire will be valuable to help other freshmen adjust more readily to college life.

UB TO HOLD FIRST ARTS FESTIVAL

The premiere Arts Festival from April 26 to May 3 will feature an art exhibit consisting of oil and water paintings, pen and ink, charcoal and pencil drawings and representative sculpture work of University students; distribution of "Helicon," the University's literary magazine, highlighted by its appearance in a new format.

with presentation of awards for the best poetry and prose submitted; three lectures including "The Meaning of the Whole in Its Relationship to Art," by Dr. Samuel Squires, "Existentialism," by Dr. Justus Van der Kroef, and "Symbolic Logic," by Prof. George Stanley. In the dramatic vein there will be an original play, "Seven Actors in Search of a Style," presented by the drama department; "Scenes from Moliere," presented by the French club and a musical production of "The Emperor's New Clothes." There will also be a showing of the film "Oedipus Rex," which features the Stratford Ontario Shakesperian Festival Players.

A SCENE FROM the filming of Sophocle's classic tragedy "Oedipus Rex," which will be presented during the Arts Festival Week at the Drama Center.

The purpose of the Art Festival, as recorded by co-chairmen Mickey Etter and Michael Summers, is to stimulate the student body into the liberal arts and the arts proper. It also displays the work of students in the various departments to all the University. It will attract outside recognition to the University's liberal arts program. The festival will also improve the quality of "work on record" such as material published in Helicon, art work, etc.

Listed as the ultimate aims of the festival are: improving the quality of students' work in the department of the College of Arts & Science and to gain increased recognition. It will also bring the liberal arts program of the University to the people of Bridgeport and the surrounding area.

The schedule of events as presently listed includes:

The formal opening of the art exhibit, April 26, at the Lincoln room of the Carlson Library, 2-4 p.m. On exhibition will be oil and water paintings, charcoal, pen and ink sketches, and original sculptures, all of which have been submitted by students from the University. According to Summers, there is still a great deal of material being submitted for the exhibit.

Faculty advisors to the Art exhibition are Professor Jackson, Miss Sybil Wilson and Mr. John Day.

At the same time, Helicon will be distributed in the Lincoln room. Appearing in a new format, Helicon will feature short stories, poetry, sketches, and original translations of French poetry. Highlighting the afternoon will be the presentation of cash awards for the best poetry and prose submitted to the magazine.

On April 27, at the Drama Center, (time as yet undecided) there will be a film presentation of Sophocle's classic tragedy, "Oedipus Rex" which has just completed a run at the Sutton theatre in New York City. The performance is by Canada's Stratford Ontario Shakesperian Festival Players, and is directed by Tyrone Guthrie.

Expected to be on hand for the film is Leonard Kipnus, who will address the students prior to the showing of the film. Arrangements to bring the movie to the University were made by Pres. James H. Halsey.

April 28 at 8:45 p.m. there will be a lecture by Dr. Samuel Squires, "The Meaning of the Whole in its Relationship to Art."

April 29, 1-3 p.m. at the Drama Center Dr. Justus Van der Kroef will give a lecture on "Existentialism and the American Experience" with a question and answer period following the lecture. Arrangements are now being made by a New Haven radio station to broadcast the lecture.

April 30, 8:45 p.m. at Tech 101 Prof. George Stanley will give a talk on "Symbolic Logic."

On May 2 at 8:30 p.m. at the Drama Center two plays will be presented. The first, "Seven Actors in Search of a Style" was written and is being directed by Prof. Albert Dickason, is a series of sketches depicting the seven styles of acting. The sketches will consist of melodrama, farce, serious, comedie, tragedy, fantasy and concert reading.

Following Dickason's play will be a presentation by the French Club of three famous comedy scenes from Moliere, and one by the famous French tragedian, Corneille.

"Parents Day" May 3, will be the final day of the Festival. Expected on campus will be hundreds of visitors who are invited to take part in the Festival. Starting off the day will be a two-dollar per person luncheon for parents being held at the Gym between 12-1 p.m.

At 1:30 p.m. there will be simultaneous performances of the French play, at the Music hall, "Seven Actors in Search of a Style" at the Drama Center and the A Cappella Choir will give a concert at Alumni hall.

At 2:30 p.m. there will be a gymnastics exhibition at the Gym.

At 3:30 p.m. there will be a repeat of the two plays, the concert, and the gymnastic exhibition.

"SAILBOATS AT SEA" will be one of the oil paintings displayed at the art exhibit in the Lincoln room of the Carlson Library. The painting was submitted by University student, Virginia Epler.

All the times and dates for the events listed above are still tentative. However, there will be a complete schedule posted in next week's Scribe, listing the exact time and dates of all the events scheduled for the Arts Festival.

The idea of holding the Festival was first discussed at a meeting of the newly elected members of Helicon's editorial board in November 1958. Rough plans of the program, including a statement of principles and projected aims were then drawn up. Those original plans were then submitted to President Halsey, who, after brief discussion with Edith Thor, editor of Helicon and sponsor of the new plan, gave his acceptance and approval.

Immediately upon receiving approval from the administration, Miss Thor called a meeting for all members of Helicon, also inviting several students who might be interested in furthering the program. Selected as co-chairmen of the Arts Festival week at that meeting were Summers, a sophomore majoring in education and Etter, a junior, majoring in psychology.

Since December, these two with the aid of Mrs. Thor, have scheduled, made arrangements for and virtually made possible the first Arts Festival at the University.

In a recent query to President Halsey, he stated that he was quite pleased with the development of the plans for the Art Festival. He went on to say that "These are the activities which a University should foster. They are perfectly with our objectives." He continued stating that he is favorably impressed to learn that the original idea, and most of the planning for the events has come from the students. Halsey concluded saying "I hope that all members of the University community will avail themselves of the many interesting, stimulating, and challenging programs which will be presented at the Art Festival."

APPEARING IN "Seven Actors in Search of A Style" (L-R) are: Barbara Sanislo, Richard Moskow, Rochelle Osur, Robert Brainin, Edward Frackman, Karen Smith and Sally Kranz. This play, which will be presented at the Drama Center, was written especially for the Arts Festival by Prof. Albert Dickason.

Wolff Conducts Panel At Windsor Meeting

Dr. Alfred R. Wolff, director of Student Personnel and Rev. George Mahan, assistant dean at Fairfield University recently served as panel members at the annual meeting of the Connecticut Council on School and College Relations which took place at Windsor High School in Windsor, Conn.

The conference theme was "Non-Academic Problems of College Admissions and Pertinent Pre-College Guidance." Dr. Wolff and the Rev. Mahan sat on a panel designed to answer questions and comments from the floor.

Alcoa Grant Enriches UB by $1000

A grant of $1,000 has been awarded to the University by the Alcoa Foundation.

Mr. C. H. DeLamater, manager of the Aluminum Company of America's Bridgeport Works who presented the grant, said that the small independent colleges "have been of major importance in strengthening the overall educational program of our nation. Their accomplishments have been most notable, and the Alcoa Foundation is pleased to furnish this support."

"Since the Foundation's beginning in 1952," the official said, "it has presented $1,714,587 in scholarships, fellowships, -summer professorships, grants and special endowments to educational institutions."

Sixty-seven colleges and sixteen state associations will benefit this year from approximately $100,000 in grants from the Alcoa Foundation.

Now in its fourth year, the Foundation was founded for the purpose of using its net income exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational purposes. Its income can be used in no other way. According to the Foundation trustees, gifts are divided approximately even between educational and non-educational grants.

Campus Attire Issue Annoys Jazz Writer

To the Editor:
The question regarding student dress on this campus, is one of the most ridiculous issues I have ever heard of. When people reach the college level it is usually assumed that they are mature enough to make their own decisions. These decisions include proper attire. To lay down a set of rules that one must follow, is regimentation personified.

A person who is well groomed but attired casually (chinos or Bermuda Shorts), should not have to worry about being reprimanded for his choice of apparel.

There is a saying "you're only young once." Most people know what is expected of them, regarding appearance once they leave this institution. They have their whole lives ahead of them in which to follow these strict rules. They had better enjoy living in a casual manner while they are still able.

I am sure the majority of the instructors on this campus do not mind casual dress. More likely, they are envious of the students who are able to do so.

UB Students Lacking, Says Sybil to 'Icky'

To the Editor:

As I've said before, my Sibyl sometimes gets some pretty snooty and weird ideas but this time... Well, I'll just quote you a part of her last letter.

"...and I can tolerate most of your friends. Icky, although some of them might well improve their manners. In fact, one or two—but I had better save that until I see you next week!"

"Something that disappointed me greatly, Icky, was the general attitude of the students toward their campus. Granted, it is not the most beautiful campus in existence. Neither is ours, but at least it is neat and clean. Only juveniles could reason that because the campus is already messy there is no sense in bothering about where they throw their trash. Next time you walk around campus, look at the ground and sidewalks around the doors of the classroom buildings and Alumni Hall. You say that students sometimes eat lunch on the steps of Alumni Hall in the spring. What a disgusting atmosphere for a luncheon! It looks as though the building had its own private snowstorm and each snowflake had come with its own filter tip!"

"I'm not just blaming other people, Icky; you are one of the culprits too. I saw you drop a cigarette on the sidewalk when there was a receptacle right beside you. The school might well provide more receptacles, but from the looks of the grounds around the existing ones, students would not use them anyway."

I looked around like she said and its nowhere as bad as Sibyl says. Course, Sibyl is one of those girls who doesn't smoke and thinks everybody who does is a slob with bad manners. They don't stop to think where is a guy going to put a butt anyway, in his pocket? Those people are too darn sensitive!

Choice of German Chancellor Won't Change Present Policy

Chancellor Adenauer's shift to the presidency of West Germany will make little difference in the forthcoming negotiations with Russia over the status of Berlin.

Dr. Adenauer will retain his position as Chancellor until Sept. 15, which means that he will direct policy at the foreign ministers' conference in May and that he himself will represent Germany at the summit conference, if there is to be one.

He, more than any other group or individual, will determine the selection of the next German Chancellor. The choice is certain to fall upon a member of the Chancellor's Christian Democratic party who is in complete accord with Dr. Adenauer's views and who will be as tough as the old man himself in later dealings with the Soviet Union. During his ten years as Chancellor of Germany—a difficult decade of tension and postwar readjustment—Dr. Adenauer has never acted on a basis of either anger or disappointment. His retirement at the age of 83 can easily be explained by the following three common-sense reasons.

One: Recent repeated spells of illness have taught Dr. Adenauer that in 1961, at the age of 85, he would be unequal to the strain of a vigorous political campaign to retain his own

Co-eds Flaunt Highest QPR's?

Have you ever hesitated about joining an active campus organization because you thought such a step might be reflected in your future grades?

Although it is a popular conception that a person cannot be active in campus organizations and have good grades at the same time, a recent survey by the Student Activities Office has shown that this conception is more fiction than fact.

Director of Student Activities, Prof. George Stanley says, "The different fraternities and sororities on campus are putting greater emphasis on scholastic achievement today than they have in the past." Many times a student is turned down now for a poor scholastic record more than anything else.

To prove his point Stanley gives the following list of the average Q.P.R.'s of the 15 active fraternities and sororities for the fall semester of 1958. He noted that the three decimal places are used to emphasize the real standing.

The ratings are as follows:

Halsey Attends 'Flight' Meeting Held in Las Vegas

Pres. James H. Halsey is attending the World Congress of Flight in Las Vegas, Nev. as a guest of the United States Air Force Recruiting Service. The Congress began April 12 and ends Saturday.

The first event of its kind, the World Congress of Flight is bringing together the men of decision in the fields of aircraft, missiles, and spacecraft with the equipment they design, produce, use and operate for conferences, air and ground demonstrations and displays on a global scale.

Invited participants include scientists, educators, government officials, company executives, designers, engineers, financiers, military leaders, world dignitaries and newsmen.

President Halsey departed for the World Congress of Flight April 11. He is expected to return Sunday to welcome the Accreditation Committee to the University.

Sociologists, Pi Gamma Mu Sponsor Annual Banquet

Pi Gamma Mu presented an award to Mayor Tedesco with the Sociology Colloquium presenting awards to four other recipients at their annual dinner last night at the Candlelite Restaurant.

Keynote speaker at the banquet was Dr. Roman Violy of Amsterdam, N.Y., and president of the University's Parents' Council.

The Very Rev. Joseph G. Simko, pastor of St. John the Baptist Carpatho Russian church, received a Gold Key award. Father Simko received his master of science degree in administration from the UB College of Education in 1951.

George H. Stanley, director of Student Activities and Mrs. Carolyn Johnson, executive secretary to James H. Halsey, President, were also honored for outstanding campus contributions.

New members of the campus chapter of Pi Gamma Mu were initiated at the banquet.

Program participants included Earl M. Bigsbee, dean of the University's Junior College of Connecticut, master of ceremonies; Rev. Harold Holbrook, spiritual advisor to the campus Christian association, invocation; Michael Donahue, student president of the Sociology Colloquium, greetings; Dr. Clarence D. L. Ropp, dean of the College of Arts and Science, Eaton V. W. Read, dean College of Business Administration and Mr. Halsey, presentation of awards.

Dorm Helpers To Be Picked

The selections of the new Resident Assistants and sponsors will be made sometime in April, announced Dr. Claire Fulcher, Dean of Women.

A sheet will be sent around to the girls dorms and the girls will be asked to choose the girls that they would like to have as their helpers.

The sponsors and R.A.'s will then meet separately within their floors and choose the girls which they feel are most capable of handling the job.

Eventually all the counselors, sponsors and R.A.'s from all the girls dorms will have a meeting at which they will go over the suggested candidates and then pick the R.A.'s, said Miss Fulcher.

The R.A.'s, who get free rooming for their duties, work directly with the dorm counselors. Since they will be required to work hand in hand with the sponsors (who assist the R.A.'s) they will be asked who they would prefer as their sponsor. And if this girl has the necessary requirements to fill the position she will be appointed.

Although the sponsors do not receive any salary for their work, most of the girls gain great experience in living with, and helping other people, declared Dr. Fulcher. This honor also gives the girl a better chance of becoming an R.A. in future years, added Miss Fulcher.

HARRY LAWTON, JR., received his B.S. in Physics at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1950, joining General Electric that same year. He received an M.S. degree in Management Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1958.

"Long-range programs are important — for both men and missiles"

"In a company dedicated to research and development, a young man's opportunities to learn more—to increase his technical skills—are almost unlimited," says 31-year-old Harry Lawton, Jr., a General Electric engineer engaged in the development of inertial guidance and fire-control systems for ballistic missiles. "And to maintain America's scientific leadership, we're going to need all the technical training and skills we can produce."

"An important aspect of my job at General Electric is the continuing opportunity to learn more. I've been able to continue my education in the company's Physics Program for college graduates. And I also have the advantage of association with top technical experts in my work. Opportunities like this have helped me realize that long-range programs are important—for both men and missiles."

Harry Lawton is one of several hundred technical graduates who are devoting their skills to the development of 14 government missile projects to which General Electric is a major contributor. More and more our scientific progress and our national security depend on men like this—men who bring high qualifications to their work and who continue their quest for knowledge, both on and off the job.

General Electric believes that individual initiative and career growth are essential to America's continued technological leadership. To this end, the company encourages all of its employees—including more than 30,000 college graduates—to develop to their fullest capabilities by providing opportunities for increasing knowledge and working skills.

Knights Nip Hunter in Tenth, 5-4

Coach "Bob" DeSpirito

Just as the rains washed out most of the major league games on the Eastern Coast, so was the case here at UB. Two scheduled games this past weekend were rained out, but one of which will have to be rescheduled for it is a league game.

All games in the Inter-Collegiate Baseball League must be played. The Upsala game which was supposed to be played last Friday will have to be played at a later date. However, before the rains came the Knights did manage to play one game that was a 5-4, 10 inning victory over Hunter College of the Bronx.

With bases loaded in the last of the tenth inning, Captain John Aslan lashed a two and two pitch deep to left center field for the game was to be called after the tenth inning because of darkness. The Knights now have a one win and one loss record for the year.

Hunter College started fast as they scored on an unearned run in the first inning. The first batter of the game walked, went to second on an infield error, and scored on another error by the UB infielders.

Hunter made it 2-0 in the fourth as they got their first hit off of UB's starting and winning pitcher, Skip DePace. A double to left center by the lead off hitter and a single to right accounted for the run.

The DiSpirito coached men tied the score in the fifth inning as they scored two runs without the benefit of a hit. John Giampaolo led off with a walk, stole second, Tony Granger then walked, and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. With runners on second and third, John Aslan laid down a perfect bunt for two tallies. The Knights went ahead in the sixth as they scored two more runs without a hit. Two bases on balls, an infield error loaded the sacks with no one out. Everitt Hart then rescued two men with a sacrifice.

The Knights were leading 4-2 with one out in the seventh as Cary Judelson hit a home run between the trees in right field to cut the lead to one, 4-3. DePace had retired five men in a row by way of strike-outs before this blast.

Hunter tied the game in the eighth, with a walk, an infield error and a single. The Knights managed to get runners on base in the eighth and ninth innings, but were unable to push over the winning run.

John Hutchinson pinched hit for Bob Laemel to lead off the tenth and singled to right. Giampaolo then walked and Granger attempting to move the runners up by bunting, beat it out for a hit. The bases were loaded and the stage was set for Aslan's game winning hit.

DIAMOND DUST - Knights played New Britain yesterday and will play host to Providence tomorrow. The hitless wonders on UB are batting .175 as a team. John Hutchinson's hit came in his first appearance as a varsity player. Captain Aslan is batting .50 for the two games and has 5 R.B.I.'s. This is more R.B.I.'s than he had all last year. DePace struck out 17 batters in the Hunter game, which is a new UB record. Last season he had 14 strike-outs againsts Hunter. He has an earned run average of 1.80.

Jerry Bader Wins "Mr. UB" Contest

The annual Mr. UB contest was held in the Gym last week under the direction of Joe Comunale, the National Mid-error loaded the sacks with no Bader was named Mr. UB.

Bader is a sophomore, majoring in Mechanical Engineering, and is a veteran of two years service in the army. Second place was awarded to Bob Darula. Darula is a junior in the Arnold College division of UB, and is a four year vet of the navy.

A weightlifting contest was also held which had the following results: 123 lb. class won by Frank Melone, 148 lb. class by Alan Schlossberg, 165 lb. class by Jerry Rookasin, 181 lb. class by Bob Darula, 198 lb. class was won by Frank Castagnaro, and the heavy weight division by Dick Benson. Benson pressed 295 lbs. which is a New England record.

'59 Track Season Opens April 18 Against Adelphi

The Varsity Track and Field team is getting prepared for its opening meet against Adelphi College on Saturday April 18, at Adelphi. The three top returning lettermen are George Dixon, Don Scott, and Dick Whitcomb. Dixon who is a very versatile man, set the school record for the High Jump last year; while "Scotty" holds the Discus record.

Coach "Kay" expects big things from his team this year. Whitcomb will run the 100 and 220 yard dashes; the high and low hurdles; throw the shot put and discus; and run the broad jump and high jump. Harold Kent is looking to break the shotput record.

New men on the squad this year include Jim McCary, who was a quarter miler on the freshman team last year; and Jerry Patrick who looks like an outstanding pole vaulter. The first home meet will be on Wednesday April 22, against Hunter College.

Knight Capt. John Aslan Has .500 Batting Average

by Edmund J. Wolf

John Aslan, a 22 year old senior, is the UB Knight on the Baseball diamond. Aslan is a Marketing major in the College of Business Administration, and will graduate next January.

John lives in Yonkers New York and attended Gorton High School. While at Gorton he played four years of varsity football and varsity baseball. He received many State and Country honors for his excellence in sports in High School.

While at UB, John has played two major sports; varsity football for two years, he was a tackle; and varsity baseball for four years. In his freshman year John played the outfield, but was transformed into a catcher, where he now performs with magnitude. He is captain of this year's varsity baseball team and is admired by all his teammates.

Last season John batted an even .300 which was one of the top averages on the team. Currently, after two games being played, John is batting at a .500 clip. In last week's Hunter game, John won it for UB with a single in the tenth inning, to drive across the tie breaking run and give UB a 5-4 victory.

Outside of playing baseball and football, John has devoted much of his extra curricular time to some fine organizations. He is treasurer of the Society for the Advancement of Management, a member of Omega Sigma Rho fraternity, and a member of the Marketing Club.

John's favorite major league club is the New York Giants. He says N.Y., for he feels that the Giants have never left New York, and will always remain there. He loves all sports and longs to play them at all times. John's most avid fans are his family and especially his two brothers and one sister; not to mention the entire student body at UB, who admire and appreciate his fine skills as a ball player and as a gentleman.

UB Student Writes Book on Military Tactics

Arnold Mead, a junior majoring in history has sold a book he wrote on military tactics titled, "Sound the Charge", to the Military Publishing Company of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The book deals with methods of strategical and tactical movements of troops during actual combat conditions.

Mead says that by using two hypothetical countries with certain resources and military potential, he has tried to re-create actual battle conditions of these two countries at war. He drew his own maps and terrain boards to illustrate the troop movements.

Formerly a student and a member of the ROTC at Norwich University, Mead first became interested in the idea of a comprehensive survey of battle tactics and strategy three years ago. He noticed in his various military courses that rigid methods were taught, and that in theory they would always work. But Mead pointed out that officers in real battle cannot rely solely on pure theory.

Illness interrupted his work at Norwich, and Mead came to the University in 1957.

Right now Mead is not sure of the publication date of his book. It originally was 15,000 words long, but the publisher wanted it expanded another 15,000 words, doubling the length of the book. "At this rate," Mead says, "it will take at least another year."

In addition to working on his book, Mead has written several articles for the War Games Digest, published in California, and Army Magazine. He is presently working on an article about the German Panzer tactics during World War II, and has sent letters to many former Panzer officers in an effort to get as much accurate information as possible.

Mead does not write only about military science. He dabbles in creative fiction of "the lighter level." "Writing is not work," he says. "It relaxes me."

When he is not writing, Mead goes fishing, or camping. He plays tennis and collects minerals. Until a few months ago he worked as a lay out man for an advertising firm.

In September Mead will become an evening division student, and thus extend his time in college to over another year. But he also expects to be drafted. In any event Mead would eventually like to become a college history professor, but says that his first love will always be writing.

KALTENBORN EDITS THE NEWS

Two: At the present time, there are in the Adenauer government two or three men in whom the Chancellor has implicit confidence, who are in complete sympathy with his domestic and foreign policies and who carry enough prestige to lead his party to victory in the parliamentary elections of 1961.

Three: A compelling motive that led Chancellor Adenauer to accept his party's nomination to the Presidency is the failure of the party leaders to find a strong candidate to run against Carlo Schmid, the prospective candidate of the Social Democrats.

Ludwig Erhard, a Protestant, is undoubtedly the leading candidate for the Chancellorship and there is every reason why he should be. On one occasion, I asked him what he considered the chief reasons for Germany's miraculous recovery after the war.

He replied, "Fundamentally there are three reasons for our success. First, we stabilized the currency and stopped inflation. Second, we decided that ours must be a regime completely devoted to free enterprise with a minimum of state interference."

"The third reason was the innate German capacity to work hard in unity. Labor, management and government worked hand in hand for the common cause of recovery."

Dr. Erhard has operated largely behind the scenes but he has played the leading part in making defeated Germany into the second greatest economic power on the European continent.

Dr. Erhard hates communism with the same intensity as Dr. Adenauer. He will be against making useless concessions to a Soviet Union that would only use them to demand more concessions.

The Inter-Fraternity Council has recently completed two projects which gave a helping hand to the Crippled Children's Workshop of this city. Project "A" was centered around the gaps left by vacationing special teachers at the workshop. The members of the IFC took over for a week and taught in the various classes ranging from grades one to eighth. Project "B" had to do with an extensive yearly project of the Workshop, that of stuffing envelopes with Easter Seals for the residents of the Greater Bridgeport area. Both of these projects aided the Workshop to a degree of great importance, as the workforce at the Workshop is limited in numbers.

Those members of the IFC who were involved with both projects were: John Camera, SOS, chairman of the committee; Nancy Buckout, TE; Barbara Prawdzik, TE; Adele Silberman, TE; Joan Flynn, TE; Doris Carroll, CZR; Carol Harelik, CZR; Myrha Cantor; Joan Tassinaro, BG; Stu Plotnick, SOS; Joan Kaplan, PDR; Cecile Goldberg, CSD; Louise Clark, TE; Karen Smith, TE; and Vicki Nalle. This PROBABLY is an indication that the IFC does other things beside having very WET picnics.

Upsilon Beta Sigma held formal initiation last Tuesday night. The four new brothers are Steve Stein, Tony Quarles, Tom Burke, and Kilian Brech. Happiest of the brothers when pledging ended was Al Bjork, who can now sleep at night without worrying about footsteps outside his door.

FLASH! The brothers of Sigma Lambda Chi have invented a new machine which will be put into use at their annual dance at the Georgette Room of Glorietta Manor, on Saturday, April 18. SLX has promised to use their machine to turn us back to a NEW YEAR'S EVE AT UB. Be sure that you're there to witness this event.

Well, well; something finally replaced the "Hula-Hoop". The newest fad that is sweeping the country is the overabundance of Fidel Castro Hats, complete with a beard which doubles as a chin strap to keep the olive-colored lid on the head. Right now the 26 de Julio slogans are being passed around with as much facility as "gimme-a-vanilla-ice-cream-cone" would be by the many midget-Castro of the cowboys and Indians set, BUT, this fad will probably work its way up through the tratas and into the campus-set to take the part of what the well-dressed freshman will be including in his wardrobe. The question is "Will it replace the Ivy-League hats that are now in existence?" If this Does replace the golt hats there will undoubtedly be a buckle on the back of the hat, and you may obtain said hats at our enterprising BOOK STORE, (with a purple beard and white "UB" letters imprinted on the top of the hat.) The implications of this type hat are fantastic; POC won't have to grow the beards, and Fred Fritsky, Fred "Normie" Pickel (Jr.), and Bob "Pit-Stop" Makovac won't have to shave theirs.

The sisters of Beta Gamma interrupted their weekend activities to solicit for the American Cancer Society. This type of unselfish activity, which proves that Sororities and Fraternities on campus are "doing the job."

NEWS BRIEFS: Mike and Bobbi have been walking all over that Park. What's up, no transportation? There must be a strike at the Fisher Body Plant. . . . Sandy Fish starts preparing for those Sunday school classes at five thirty in the A.M. . . . Not only do students cram for school exams and flunk, but there are students for written driver's exams and flunk. The student in question still has his Learner's permit, but he is currently engaged in cramming for a make-up in the original exam. Why did he flunk? CHEATING DURING

College Leaders Hail Science Wall

Presidents of some of the nation's most prominent Technology Schools have recently submitted their ballots to help choose twenty-five "Immortals of Science" for the Science Wall of Honor, a part of the University's new Charles A. Dana Science Hall.

Such well known institutions as Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Rochester Institute of Technology, Georgia Tech, and California Institute of Technology are represented by both their votes cast and numerous letters accompanying their ballots.

The letter enclosed with the ballot of Dr. Walter S. Newman, President of Virginia Polytechnic Institute typifies the wide acceptance the University of Bridgeport's project is receiving. "I take great pleasure in being asked to serve as an elector in choosing outstanding scientists whose performance will be honored by your fine institution."
